Using an 18mm MDF I measured and cut out the 5x 20 x 5 cm. I tagged and polished each side at an angle, I just eyeballed the angle until I got it right (this is how I like to work) After the shape of the curve cover I marked the two sides and cut. I lined all five boards side by side and taped using camouflage tape. Then I flipped it all over again and added glue. I made a curve and taped together, see the image. Then I added both sides and clamped. Then I started working on metal bars and rivets. Use 6mm MDF 10x 4 x 5 cm strips and 10x 2.5 cm laps. I shape, grind and glued to the lid, see an image or video for a better understanding. and the Lava Hound was redesigned considerably. Check out the full list of balance sheet changes in official That's all for our Clash Royale upgrade center. Bomb Tower is one of the best around defensive In the game, as it has a burst of damage, high health, and provides a good distraction from the towers. This biggest problem is its slow loading time, so place it before the enemies arrive. This is always the first card to be played at the beginning of the game, and always not from chasing. However, wait to put it until either you have 10 elixir or push goes because it will start to lose health. Bomb tower the most important use is distraction, and with backup it can withstand all freeze combo combos
